

Jointly Meeting of the Italian Zeolite Association (AIZ)
Czech-Italian-Spanish (CIS) Conference
Italian Interdivisional Catalysis Group (GIC)
11-14th June 2019 - Amantea (CS) - ITALY

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

You are cordially invited to attend the AIZ 2019 Congress (XIV National Congress of Zeolites Science and Technology) joint with the 8th Czech-Italian-Spanish Conference on Molecular Sieves and Catalysis (CIS8), and with the GIC 2019 Congress (XXII National Congress of Catalysis).

The meeting will honor a great Italian Scientist, Dr. Giuseppe Bellussi (Senior Vice President R&D Energy Transition Program in the Development, Operations & Technology division of the Eni Company) who gave a fundamental contribution in the field of Zeolite Science and Technology.

Themes

The meeting aims to gather together scientists involved in the wide domains of zeolite and ordered porous materials science at the international level, particularly within the framework of the cooperation between research groups from Czech Republic, Italy and Spain. In view of the success of the past CIS Conferences, this meeting will focus on recent developments in synthesis, characterization, computational and theoretical aspects, and related investigations of porous materials, ranging from natural to synthesized zeolites, mesostructured materials and metal-organic-frameworks (MOFs), employed in adsorption and catalysis, engineering applications and other novel applications.

Venue

The meeting will be held at the Conference Centre of “La Principessa”, a beautiful hotel located in Amantea which was host of the CIS6 conference in 2015.

Located on the seaside, the venue is easily reached by car, train (Lamezia Terme station), or plane (the international airport of Lamezia Terme is 15 min far away).
